

Update

Contributed by Robert E. Moran
Monday, 09 August 2004
Last Updated Tuesday, 30 October 2007

PV is starting to ramp up. Everything's Alive will be a first case test of the Joomla environment. Now we have a blog, the next step is to see how to create the Everything's Alive website from it. Because we believe strongly in Open Source and the net, the approach we will take in providing sophisticated solutions to complex communication problems will be pragmatic, non proprietary and connected. Visit often because PV is a work in progress that, like the web, will be never finished. :)